

University of Kansas

Department of Psychology

Dear Prospective Applicant:

Thank you for your interest in our graduate programs in Psychology. The Department of Psychology has five graduate programs leading to the Ph.D.: Clinical, Cognitive, Developmental, Quantitative, and Social Psychology. The Department also offers a joint graduate program with the Department of Applied Behavioral Science in Clinical Child Psychology.

The Department has well-established and well-recognized graduate training programs, all of which have a long history of training grant support from the National Institute of Mental Health and the Office of Human Development (Rehabilitation Services Administration) of the Department of Health and Human Services. The quality of the Department's graduate training programs is reflected in the fact that most of the Department's graduate students have published papers in national journals and/or presented papers at national meetings by the time they have received their degrees. Authorship on publications further enhances students' opportunities to accept academic and research center positions following graduation.

The application and all materials deadline is December 1st for Fall admission. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at (785) 864-4195 or via E-mail cokeefe@ku.edu.

Sincerely,
Cathy O'Keefe
Graduate Officer
