

KATHLEEN
MCCLUSKEY-FAWCETT,
Ph.D.

Professor Emeritus, Director of University Honors Program
University of Kansas

TEACHER, ADVISOR, MENTOR

Dr. McCluskey-Fawcett has published three edited books, sixteen chapters and articles, given numerous presentations, and has five manuscripts in preparation based on her research in the area of infancy. Her work includes the social interaction between infants and their parents, as well as communication patterns between young children and their parents.

Dr. McCluskey-Fawcett has been highly awarded and renowned for her work with KU students and helping them to achieve their personal and academic potential.

Dr. McCluskey-Fawcett received her Ph.D. in Developmental and Child Psychology from our department in 1977. She has been a professor in our department since 1993.