

BEATRICE WRIGHT, Ph.D.

Professor
University of Kansas

REHABILITATION PSYCHOLOGY

Dr. Beatrice Wright did much as a pioneer in her profession and a leading scholar on physical disability and rehabilitation psychology. She is known as a professor, researcher, lecturer, humanitarian, and philanthropist.

She co-authored over 50 articles and six books, one of which, Physical Disability: A Psychosocial Approach, is considered a classic in rehabilitation psychology.

In 1996, a professorship, the Beatrice A Wright Faculty Scholar in KU Clinical Psychology, was established in her honor.

Dr. Wright joined the KU psychology department in 1951, became KU faculty in 1963 and retired in 1988.